

I woke up at 2 pm, got ready, ate my lunch, and spent some time reading the book. After that, I cleaned my fan, ironed my pant, and went to Ikea. In that shop, we roamed everywhere, bought food for ourselves, and bought blackout curtains and scented candles. We came home, and I spent my time on my laptop before eating dinner. When I completed my food, I spent my entire time on youtube and other mobile-related stuff. Right now, I am speaking and writing this one. Once I am done with this, I will have to write my schedule tomorrow, brush my teeth, clean myself, and sleep.
