

The sun was bright and emitting a lot of heat on earth when I woke up on my terrace today. I covered my bed with blankets to protect from the sun's rays. I collected my things and came down to home and went to the bathroom to do my daily chores. Then, I drank warm water and read the newspaper for half an hour to 45 minutes. I went for a walk for 30 minutes before I had tiffin. For the tiffin, I had bread with nutella cream. But that didn't fulfil my hunger and I prepared and ate the french fries. From the quarter to ten to 12 past 10, I read the discovery of india book. In the afternoon, I had lunch while watching tv. From 3 pm, I spent time watching videos between macbook pro vs air, my lambton college schedule, and studied swift app development tutorial. In the evening, before I went to bathe, my grandmother came from rajampet after she spent over there for 5-6 days. Moreover, she did go to the procession of the gangamma and celebrated my cousin's birthday at the time. I had a bath and spent some time on an app development tutorial. right now, My mom, she is preparing the paneer biryani and I don't have work to do. That's why I started writing my diary in the bedroom. After this, I will watch some youtube videos and go to dinner. Then I think I will wait for 30 minutes and proceed to the final things which I do regularly such as washing, cleaning, and applying.
