

I woke up at 10 am to go to the winner's store to buy the black shoes for my part-time job. I got ready and ate a few almonds and went to the store. I didn't find a good pair of back shoes in both winners and Walmart. I came back home and told Dheeraj to order a black pair of shoes and a table. I ate lunch at 1 pm and had a power nap after my lunch. I woke up at 6 pm and had a bathe afterwards. After my bath, I went down to pick the cilantro and green chillies at the Tamil store. I started studying HTML language from LinkedIn learning and I spent a few hours studying them. I washed the utensils and made the rice. After a while, I ate my dinner and started writing this diary. once I am done with this, I will study the remaining HTML language, brush my teeth, soak the almonds and probably go to sleep.