

I woke and did my proceedings and immersed myself in the project that we had from the college. I studied for some time and attended the class. We had the lab test which was quite difficult to a certain extent. I did submit the assignment and had a bath. After that, I had my dinner and went to sleep