

I woke up when my mother came up to the terrace and started shouting for my brother to go to school. during that time, I woke up and came down to my home and spent some time on my mobile before going to the bathroom. Then, I proceeded to the washroom and brushed my teeth, washed my face, and cleaned myself. I drank a glass of warm water and started doing my walk while reading the newspaper. While reading the news, my father is shouting at my brother because he didn't go to school. Moreover, his 10th class exams are starting on 27th April. I did my walk and read the BBC news on my laptop and had my breakfast. I must tell you something about my PPR. every day, I was watching the videos of PPR timeline Canada. Today, the series is going on 30482 but my series starts on 30485. I am thinking I will be getting an update about visa next week. after the tiffin, I read the discovery of India book. In the afternoon, I had tandoori chicken for my lunch and spent the entire afternoon watching web series, studying java and SQL tutorials. At 10 past 5, I did my leg exercises and had a wonderful bath. I asked my brother to bring the cake from mokshit house because he was celebrating his birthday today. After half-past six, I studied one page of swift language and read the Wikipedia of Prabhakaran(LTTE). I found so much time and I used this time to write the diary. Once, I have done this, I am not sure what to do and I like to spend my time watching web series, and going to political news.
