

I woke up as usual and did my brushing and cleaning things. I drank a glass of warm water while reading the newspaper and I studied three newspapers. The newspapers are BBC, THE INDIAN EXPRESS, and NDTV. afterwards, I started walking for 30 mins while going through the CBC news and twitter. At around 9:30 pm , I had my breakfast .Then later on, I went and studied android app development tutorials upto 12:30 pm.

In the afternoon, i spent some time watching videos on youtube, browsing twitter before going for lunch. I have done my lunch and I got the information that my parents and my sister are going to Tirupathi this afternoon. I spent my rest of the afternoon on my mobile.

After having my bath at 5;00 pm, I waited for some time before I moved to my terrace to start reading the next new book called THE DA VINCI CODE. The title itself is quite interesting.. I have read almost 30 pages and I realised it will take time to read another ten pages because I haven't done my dinner and I have to brush, clean my face, and apply some cream on my face. The whole process will take almost one hour. So, I decided to write my diary and go to my dinner and come back after one hour and start reading the remaining pages.....
