

I slept at around past 12 pm and woke up around half-past eight. I came down home and did my daily rituals such as brushing, washing and walking. In the morning around nine to ten, I did my breakfast while watching youtube videos. Then, I contacted the apple team regarding my Bluetooth issue. They told me several things to do and I did the process and even installed new macOS software, but it was no use. After several methods and chats, I realised that Noise earbuds are not compatible with Apple. In the morning, I also read Elon Musk's book. At 12 pm, my parents and my family members apart from my brother went to Sunil's settigunta house to have lunch. I ate along with my brother while watching youtube and yesterday's IPL highlights. I spent time in the afternoon watching youtube videos. At around half-past three, I took my book from the bedroom and went to the hall room to watch the match between RCB VS SRH while reading the book. In the evening, I did my leg exercises and went to bathe. After my bath, I added clothes to my myntra cart while seeing Tv.at around 7 pm, prameela came to my house and showed me the groom photo for her daughter and spoke about various issues in their family. I ate my dinner and spoke to Mahesh regarding the booking for my flight and he gave a green signal for that particular date which I said the previous day.
