

I woke up at 6 am and realised I was not getting much sleep. So, I decided to sleep for one more hour. After waking up at 7 am, I got ready and went to college. I reached college during the break and bought some snacks from Tim Hortons. At 11:40 am, I received a call from Rajesh stating that he was coming to my room because of some pest spray in their room. We all went to the tiffin shop, and we ate the best Indian food in a long time. We came home, and we worked on our things. They both went to their respective home in the evening, and I did my laundry. I bathed and went outside with Lakshman to buy the chicken. I prepared the curry, and it didn't come out good. Right now, I am about to end this. Once I complete this, I will write and work on the project, brush my teeth, and work on my resume.
