

I woke up at 1 or 2 pm and found out Dheeraj had come home after so many days. I cleaned myself, read the newspaper, and ate my lunch. After the meal, I read a book and spent some time reading the book. Immediately, I cleaned the kitchen, browsed my mobile, and bathed. I read git for a while. Because of that, my mind didn't work correctly. I went grocery shopping with my roommates and came home in an hour. Then, I spoke to my parents, and they asked me to send the money. I did transfer the money, and it is under verification. Right now, I have my dinner and everything. Once I complete it, I brush my teeth, clean myself, browse my laptop, and then sleep.
