

I woke up at half-past nine when Mahesh came and woke me up to go to Mississauga. I woke up and then proceeded to the bathroom to complete my schedule. after one hour, I got ready and went to the metro to board the train. we took two buses and three trains to get there. The journey was beautiful. in the meantime, I was chatting with my security company regarding my role. I reached home and they welcomed us beautifully. we spoke about numerous things and we even outside to take a walk because of the nice weather. When we reached home, they served lunch. it consists of chicken as well as fish items. in the end, we also tasted sweets from the middle Eastern countries. We said goodbyes and returned home. when we want to return home, there was one guy who came to his house because they are friends with him. he gave us a ride to our house and dropped us at the gate of our apartment.i Spoke to him about politics as well as natural stuff in Canada. After coming home, I studied newspapers,wathced K-drama, washed utensils and cooked the rice. Right now, I am writing this one. once I am done with this, I will put my phone and laptop in charge because I need to go to college tomorrow. After that, I will receive a call from my parents due to the visit to Mississauga. then, I will eat my dinner and will sleep.
