

I woke up at 5:30 am to start and go for my shift. when I reached there, I found out that I came without my tshirt. I asked my manager if I need an extra T-shirt and she told me that she didn't have any and I had to wear a winter jacket. Initially, It was okay but later on, around 10 am, I started getting a suffocated feeling because of the jacket. I had to wear that for that entire shift because of the mistake I did. At around 3 pm, I ended my shift and the Kerala guy asked me what happened to me and why are you wearing the jacket and all. I came back and had a bath. I ate my lunch and read both the newspaper and the book. I took a nap and woke up when Mahesh came. We both made food and now I am writing this. once I am done with this, I will spend some time doing nothing and I will eat my dinner. I am thinking of studying for 1 hour on devops.
