

I woke up pretty late and made my tiffin in the morning and ate breakfast. I went to the library, got the card, used the desktop for one hour, understood so many things, and brought two books with me. I made lunch and took a nap up to 5 pm. After the nap, I bathed, read the book, and made dinner with aravind. Mahesh came pretty early and we all ate while watching the Vikram movie premiere on the projector. I watched for one hour and got bored with that and I watched the remaining movie on my mobile. I slept at around 2am.