

It was about noon when I woke up. I cleared my bathroom and brush schedule in a while and started preparing the protein shake. It was good, and I made lunch for my roommates with the help of Aravind. Afterwards, I studied for a while, which made me good for the entire day. After my studies, I ate my lunch, browsed my mobile for a bit, and had a small nap. At 7 pm, I woke up, spent some time on my mobile, and started writing this diary. Once I am done with this, I will eat my dinner, bathe, speak to Laxman bro, and go to my part-time shift, which starts at midnight. When I am going to my shift, I will also carry milk and powder to drink in the morning.
