

yesterday, I slept on the terrace and it was raining at the initial time when I went to sleep over there. After a few minutes, the rain stopped and I slept like a baby and woke up at half-past seven. The sun was setting his entire energy on me when I woke up. Due to that particular reason, I came down and did my daily chores and started walking. This is the first time I have gone for a walk after more than 5 to 6 days. After the walking part, I asked my mother to prepare the breakfast and I ate along with my family members in the hall without any power. the reason behind the power loss is that it's the second Saturday. I read the atomic habits book in the morning until I get my power back. We got power at half-past ten and I looked for clothes shopping, read the book, and watched a few youtube videos in the morning. In the afternoon, I ate my lunch, did my group project, submitted it to the WhatsApp group to get an idea from my batch mates, and practised all the exercises. I watched a few videos, drank the tea, and had a bath after a long wait because my mom was bathing. Once I had a bath, when I came home, Sunil was there and I asked him to get scanned my passport. Eventually, he got scanned my passport. I sat in front of my laptop and read the newspaper from the top three news channels and started writing this diary. once I have done this part, I will read the atomic habits book and think of searching for clothes.
