

I woke up and did my daily chores and started learning SQL language in the morning as well as in the afternoon. I ate my breakfast and lunch. I had positive and negative feelings toward the exam. I had an exam after two hours of class and I just had to do my project in the meantime. I gave my exam and watched the movie at the night before I go to sleep.