

I woke up early and attended the exam. it was difficult because of the break I had from college and moreover, he didn't say which way to do it. I asked some people to do it and later at the end of the class, I got the zip file from donia. I modified it a bit and submitted the document. Once the class and exam were over, I ate, got ready, and proceeded to service Canada to collect my social insurance number. It took me 2 hours to get the number and later I proceeded to Canada post to activate my uber account. I did both processes and came home at 6 pm. I studied a bit and spoke to my parents and friends and went to sleep. By the way, I travelled alone for the first time in Canada.
