

I woke up a bit late . There is nothing much to describe in the morning that I spent. I did my reading of the news, and finalised the amount of money I need to spend for my clothes, miscellaneous expenses.

In the afternoon, I had my lunch and spent 40 minutes studying sql language. From mid afternoon, I didn't study and often spent time on my mobile.

I did my leg exercise and watered my spinach plants before my bath.

I had my bath at around 5:30 pm and started reading the silent patient book. My brother and I decided to eat kaju rice. Hence, my brother went to a restaurant and got the rice.

Right now, I had to clean my face and will go and watch the da vinci code movie
