

Finally, my college holidays have started and right now, I am enjoying myself since the morning. I got ready and went to Tirupati with my parents to do some shopping and exchange the money from Thomas Cook. initially, I exchanged money with Thomas and It was about 1400 Canadian dollars which cost me 90100 rupees. When I saw the currency notes, it was like a movie ticket. After that, we ate pizza and went to trends to do some shopping and after that, we went to reliance to run some errands. Finally, we started our journey back home after reliance. In the night, I packed my suitcases and weighed them.it was my day
