

I woke up early because of the alarm and got ready within an hour by making breakfast and by completing my bathroom schedule. I went to the tim hortons and I found out I still have 30 minutes to start my schedule. I called my father and spoke to him in the meantime. After the call, I started my schedule and did upto 3 pm. Furthermore, I took a break at 2 pm. I came home and ate my lunch. And then , I started reading the newspaper, completed the gone girl book reading, and watched one hour of css class. Right now, I had my dinner. I started writing this diary while watching the TV. once I am done with this, I will watch TV and then go to bed.