

I woke up at 5:30 am and went to college. in college, I wrote my final exam and came back home. In-home, I prepared the chicken curry by myself and ate the food. I wasted the entire evening doing nothing. Right now, I am writing this. once I am done with this, I will prepare the rice, eat my dinner, and probably go to sleep. I have so much to write but I am not writing because I lost my interest and I lost my motivation as well.
