

Due to the heavy rain yesterday, I slept at Sampathamma's house just next to my house. I woke up early in the morning before anyone woke up due to my constipation problem. I cleared my bathroom and lay in the bed watching and browsing my mobile. After some time, I brushed my teeth and washed my face and joined the walking for half an hour. At 9 am, I had my breakfast and read Elon Musk's biography up to 11:30 pm. In the afternoon, I had lunch and went to read the book. While I was reading, my uncle home to discuss the bride who belongs to my village for his friend. I spoke to my uncle and during this time, I received my stamped passport and air pods. I checked my air pods and it was not working with my MacBook because there are internal problems with my Bluetooth and I need to fix it. In the evening, my parents and my siblings went to the hospital for my brother's face to show to the doctor due to the dermatology problems. I had a bath and started writing this diary for my day. After this, I need to fix my Bluetooth problems and prepare my dinner.
