

I woke up as usual and did my daily chores in the morning. I started studying but I was actually not in the mood to do anything. In the evening, I attend the class and submitted my exercise and went to sleep.