In the morning, I watched the swift IOS language and tried to understand the concept. But, it turns out to be very hard. I didn't align the constraints until the start of the class. In the class, he gave the assignment and told us to submit it after the weekend but before the class date. I spent the rest of the class time doing baths, eating dinner, and writing this diary. once I complete this, I have to do the assignment. Once I am tired of doing the assignment, I will watch youtube or web series.
