I woke up at 6 am and went to the college. I came back home from my college after I had lunch in the college. Rajesh gave his birthday party. I came home and watched the movie for a bit and went to sleep. I woke up at 8 pm and took the project from my classmate and submitted the test. Aravind came home and we both cooked our dinner. Right now, I am writing this one. once I am done with this, I will work on my project and I will study DevOps.
